I virtually attended the Council meeting tonight and was horrified to hear of the proposed additional development of Limerick Avenue in Preston. I am very familiar with that neighbourhood and wish to point out that it is not "a complete community" since there are very few services within that very small area. The only useful business in the community is a variety store, which is certainly not the best place to buy weekly groceries. There is one school which I am sure is already overflowing and one church. Children are bused to another school in downtown Preston.

What happened to our desire to have walkable neighbourhoods? In order to get to the nearest grocery store it is necessary to go to Bishop Street. All other services are down Shantz Hill to King Street or up into Kitchener.
