General Operations Update

- The Staff Liaison provided a 2022 Statistic Report for requests so far. So far this year, there have been 142 requests (105 public and 37 staff), close to 2021's numbers, which represented a 96% increase over 2020.
- The Staff Liaison is now back in the Archives most work days. Dan will find out how other archives in the area are responding to the changing Covid regulations and ask his supervisor if opening the Archives to the public one day a week is possible. All City staff will be back in person beginning on March 28th.
- Most City Advisory Committees and Boards will be closed from September until January 2023 because of the upcoming elections and a Council vote to keep business to a minimum during the transition period following the elections.
- Due to current Covid restraints, the Archives was unable to participate in an upcoming history television documentary about the WRNS in Galt, but will be providing six photographs from its collection for the documentary entitled "Our War" that will air on the History Channel sometime in 2022.
- Julie Hamilton will find out if it is possible to have a public screening of The Six, the Titanic documentary that features Galt.
- Megan Solomon gave a short description of her work at the Dufferin Archives that dealt with maps and photographs. The Staff Liaison hoped to duplicate this project at some point at the Archives.
- Mark Kooting told of his involvement with a house on Highway 8, known as the Grange and an 1834 Galt Cholera burial site located nearby. The Archives has a manuscript dealing with this home and it will be shared with Mark.
